Dear Harold:

I thought I would write to you from here in Portugal (one of the Best Dictatorships on the Iberian Peninsula) and advise you that I still think you are correct in your analysis of the Kennedy thing.

Also, I suppose as you indicated to me in one of your letters that I have no courage; that, you are correct, there, also.

But, the thing which I do not understand is: there can be no question but that Oswald could not have done the killing alone. He had co-assassins; or, he was a fallguy. And I cannot criticize the efforts of Jim Harrison (or Garrison) — that took a great deal of fortitude, and guts, and a calculated knowledge that no-conviction on the Shaw-trial meant certain-recrimination.

It is almost as though a review of the Lincoln Assassination was being treated by Historians; let me tell you, Harold, you have performed with a courage I lack; and that History will show you to be accurate, or at least, precise.

I don't think the whole-thing is over, yet. I think Truth will come (despite as Mark Lane says; the abysmal-ignorance - is obvious) and, guys like you, Harold, are O.K.; and I'll be back in N.Y. June 1st And, please - I'd like to talk with you, then. Sincerely, Carl
